

Moving Boxes

Story By: Andrew Frinkle

Noah had a big box. The box was for his stuff.
He was moving. The whole family was moving.
He was going to a new city. Dad got a new job.
Now Noah had to pack his things. He could not take it all.
There was no room in the truck. He had to pack just one box.
What would he take?

Would he take his basketball?

Maybe...

Would he take his games?

Probably...

Would he take his teddy bear?

Definitely...

Would he take his old coat?

No...

Would he take his favorite shoes?

Yes...

Would he take his comic books?

Certainly...

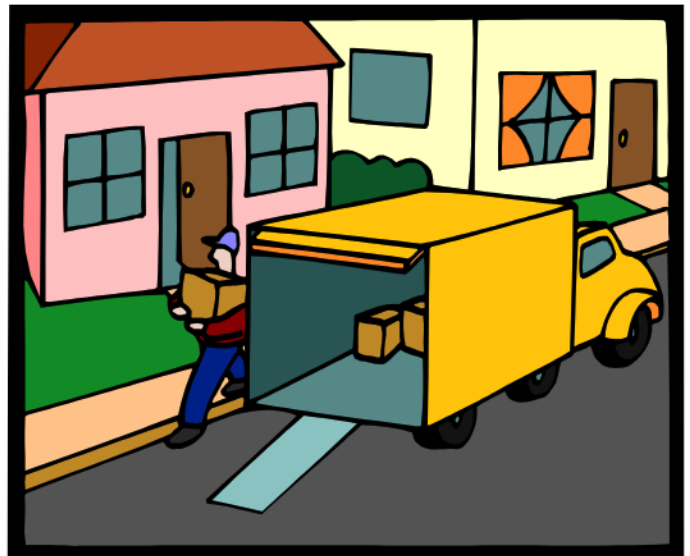

Would he take his sock monkey?

Perhaps...

Would he take his bug collection?

Not likely...

There were many things to pack. It was hard to decide. What would he do?
Just then, his Dad came back in his room. He smiled and gave Noah another box.
Now he wouldn't have to choose!
