Being Kind

Sometimes things happen with a person and we need to make a decision about how to react. Sometimes, we might want to get mad, yell, or even hit. But, being kind to someone can make you feel good, and maybe even help the other person.

Directions: Look at the pictures below. What is happening? If this was happening to you, how could you react in a kind way? Write a sentence for each picture that tells about a way you could react kindly.

Remember, if someone is not treating you kindly, you can tell your teacher or your parent.
It is wrong to bully others.
