The Legislative Branch

Directions: Learn about your Legislative Branch.

The Legislative Branch is made up of two houses of Congress - The House of Representatives, and the Senate. Congress convenes in the State House in Washington D.C.

The Senate is comprised of 100 Senators, two from each state, elected by their states for six-year terms. The head of the Senate is the considered to be the Vice President of the U.S. The VP does not vote in the Senate unless there is a tie!

The House of Representatives is comprised of 435 representatives. The number of representatives per state is based on the state's population. Representatives serve two terms. The Speaker of the House, who is elected by the representatives, is considered to be the head of the House.
