Commas

Commas are used to set off a quote.

Example: Mom looked at me and said, "Please eat your dinner."

Directions: Read the sentences and insert a comma where needed.

1. Our teacher said "Raise your hand if you have your lunch today."

2. I asked my friend "Do you want to sleep over tonight?"

3. The ice cream man said "We have strawberry, vanilla, and chocolate ice cream."

4. As the spaceship touched down, the astronaut said "The Eagle has landed."

5. The head cheerleader yelled "Who's going to win?"

6. Paul asked "Do you have any more apples on your tree?"

7. Dr. Parkins quietly whispered "She's going to be fine."

8. All together we screamed "School's out for the summer!"

Commas are used in stories, letters, songs, poems, signs, scripts, lists, and many other things.

Name: _____

Commas

Commas are used to set off a quote.
Example: Mom looked at me and said, "Please eat your dinner."

Directions: Read the sentences and insert a comma where needed.
Answer Key

1. Our teacher said, "Raise your hand if you have your lunch today."

2. I asked my friend, "Do you want to sleep over tonight?"

3. The ice cream man said, "We have strawberry, vanilla, and chocolate ice cream."

4. As the spaceship touched down, the astronaut said, "The Eagle has landed."

5. The head cheerleader yelled, "Who's going to win?"

6. Paul asked, "Do you have any more apples on your tree?"

7. Dr. Parkins quietly whispered, "She's going to be fine."

8. All together we screamed, "School's out for the summer!"

Commas are used in stories, letters, songs, poems, signs, scripts, lists, and many other things.