I start with a tiny little
seed.

The seed needs
food, so I put it into the ground.

The seed needs
water, so I give it
water.

The seed needs
sunlight, so I put it
out in the sun.

Then, my seed
starts to sprout.
You can see the
roots underground.

Wow! Look at that.
My seed is now a
plant.

Then, the wind blows
and tiny little seeds
fall to the ground.

After the seeds fall
to the ground, the
life cycle of a plant
starts all over again.
